JONATHAN LORAINÉ TO LEAVE MIM

After more than six years with MIM, Jonathan Loraine, Executive General Manager Exploration and Development, has resigned from the company and will leave at the end of January.

Managing Director Vince Gauci said Mr Loraine had made a significant contribution to MIM.

“With his technical and business skills and international experience, Jon has been a valuable member of the senior management team. During the crucial turnaround period of recent years, he was heavily involved in MIM’s corporate restructuring. Under Jon’s executive management, the Ernest Henry and George Fisher mines were successfully brought to production and exploration was given greater focus,” Mr Gauci said.
